

-----Original Message-----

From: Gabram, Douglas M LTG USARMY IMCOM HQ (USA)

Sent: Friday, March 27, 2020 12:57 PM

Subject: CG SITREP to IMCOM Professionals - 27 March 2020

IMCOM Team,

I just wanted to reach out to you and stay connected during these frenetic times. Make no mistake about it, IMCOM is on a wartime footing. We approach our response to COVID-19 as a combat operation, and we will win!

The IMCOM leadership team is in contact with your chains of command on a daily basis. I am proud of your resilience, creativity, and dedication as you engage this enemy and protect your communities. It is clear you are all in the fight. Keep sharing best practices, so we can all benefit.

Force protection is my number one priority. My message to you is simple: Protect yourself...So you can protect the force...So the force can protect the nation.

We must all practice disciplined social distancing and threat awareness, no matter where we are or what we are doing. Follow CDC protection measure guidance. Apply leadership to make sure those in your sphere of influence are doing the same. Just like we are seeing in the New York City Police department, when one goes down, all those around that person do too. We need each one of us too much to let that happen.

Stay Positive, Stay alert, and take care of one another!

V/r, LTG G

LTG Douglas M. Gabram

Commanding General

U.S. Army Installation Management Command Building 2261, Room 3300

(210) 466-0661

We are the Army's Home

Learn more at www.imcom.army.mil